

Some of Malverne's
Competitors for President
August Eimer's Prizes for the Best
Lawn, Shrubbery and Vegetable Garden.
Photos by Edward L. Avery.

Herbert E. Garlock's house, front and west side: pink ramblers, midget boxwoods and evergreens, honeysuckle, lilacs, dwarfed firs, snowballs, barberry bushes, California privet hedge, catalpa and poplar trees.

Ernest Child's house; lawn north and west of porch. Flowering bushes each side of porch steps. Porch centre, north side, ivy and rambler trellis, surrounded by shrubs and dwarf evergreens.

W. J. Pickett's house, front porch effect: row of Long Island maples, German and English ivy and fuchsias and daisies in flower boxes; wistaria around pillars.

Karl H. Bier's house: porte cochere shows dark red and yellowish green border plants and salvia in centre row; hydrangea and border plants at left of sun parlor; landscape in front of 57 foot porch shows beds of pyramidal boxwood, Japanese yews and blue spruce; at entrance two flower boxes of palms, red geraniums and ivy; roses and catalpa trees; privet ball hedge.

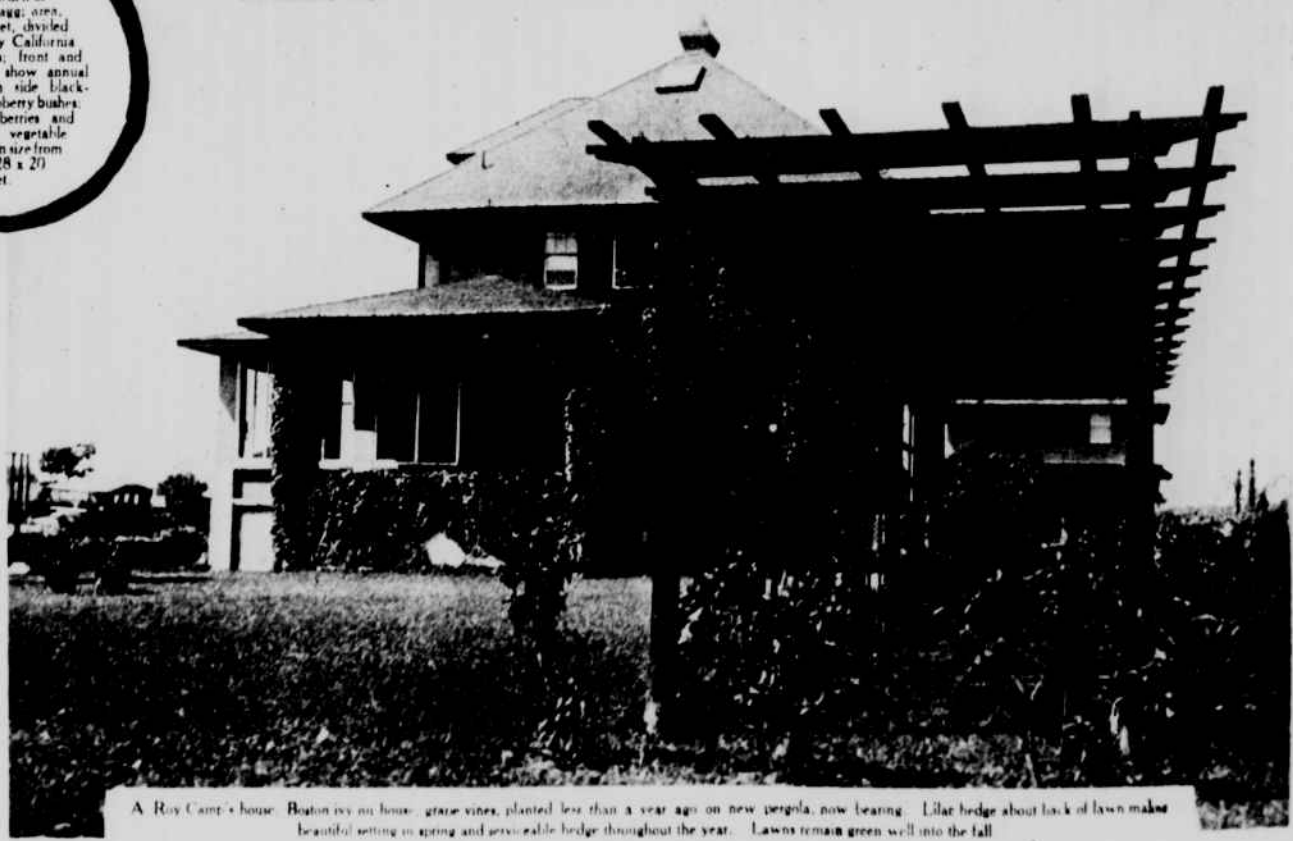

Henry Truberg's house: house 40 x 40, on 100 x 100 corner plot, front porch, full length, set off by ivy and geranium boxes, ivy covered chimney, flowers and shrubs used, hydrangea, forsythia, althea, weigelia, magnolia, pyramidal boxwood, Japanese barberries and apple, pear, peach and plum trees.

Vegetable garden of A. H. Wagon, area 72 x 76 feet, divided into beds by California privet hedges; front and south borders show annual flowers; north side blackberry and raspberry bushes; west, strawberries and rhubarb; vegetable plots vary in size from 12 to 28 x 20 feet.

Eugene E. Dresser's house: plot 100 x 170, 100 x 130 lawn and house, 40 x 100, vegetable garden, bordered north and east by fruit trees; vegetable garden screened from house by poplars and purple beeches; rear of house backed by hydrangea, Japanese barberry bushes and bridal rose and shrubs.

A Roy Camp's house: Boston ivy on house; grape vines, planted less than a year ago on new pergola, now bearing. Lilac hedge about back of lawn makes beautiful setting in spring and seasonable hedge throughout the year. Lawns remain green well into the fall.